

Guy Collender
Senior Communications Officer

Guy has a background in journalism and international development. He studied Modern History at Oxford University and was a reporter for two years at The News (Portsmouth's daily newspaper) before he gained a MSc in Population and Development from the London School of Economics (LSE). Guy then worked at the Media Monitoring Unit, part of the UK Civil Service, for two years. He was also seconded to the Press Office at the Department for International Development during this period. In 2007 he became a Communications Officer at the Institute of Development Studies (IDS), Sussex. Guy joined LIDC in July 2008.

guy.collender@lidl.bloomsbury.ac.uk

+ 44 (0) 20 7958 8260

Skype Name: guycollender